Introduction and Objectives of the Hong Kong Construction Surveying Association

The Hong Kong Construction Surveying Association is dedicated to uniting professionals in the field of construction surveying in Hong Kong and leveraging the collective strength of various stakeholders. Through our association's platform, we aim to facilitate the sharing of work experiences and professional insights, with the ultimate goal of fostering a deeper understanding of our expertise and ensuring the continuous advancement of the construction surveying industry for the betterment of society.

Our association seeks to foster unity among professionals in the surveying industry, including land surveyors, engineering surveyors, drafting technicians, surveying instrument operators, aerial surveyors, pipe surveyors, geographic information system specialists, building information modeling experts, and individuals involved in engineering surveying education. We strive to provide training courses and professional seminars to enhance the technical proficiency and knowledge of surveying practices in the construction sector. Additionally, we actively contribute to the establishment of standards for surveying and construction projects, thereby elevating the status and remuneration of the construction surveying profession.

We are committed to advocating for the best interests of our members and pursuing mutually beneficial outcomes. By fostering a collaborative environment, we aim to achieve a harmonious and prosperous future for all stakeholders in the field of construction surveying.
